I..DISTINGUISHED-SERVICE MEDAL.—By direction of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved 9 July 1918 (Bul. 43, WD, 1918), the Distinguished-Service Medal (third Oak-Leaf Cluster) for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service in a position of great responsibility during the period indicated is awarded to the following-named officer:

General Carl Spaatz, , United States Air Force. 26 September 1947 to 30 April 1948.

II..SILVER STAR.—By direction of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved 9 July 1918 (Bul. 43, WD, 1918), the Silver Star for gallantry in action during the period indicated is awarded posthumously to the following-named officer:

Second Lieutenant Robert W. Hansen, , Infantry, Army of the United States, a member of Company C, 105th Infantry Regiment, 27th Infantry Division, distinguished himself by gallantry in action on 30 April 1945. During an attack on a well-concealed Japanese position on Okinawa Shima, the attack bogged down because of heavy mortar and machine-gun fire. Lieutenant Hansen ran forward, spotted the Japanese position, signalled his platoon, and led it forward in an advance, during which he was killed. His courageous leadership was the means by which the advance was continued and the objective taken.

III..SILVER STAR.—By direction of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved 9 July 1918 (Bul. 43, WD, 1918), the Silver Star for gallantry in action during the periods indicated is awarded to the following-named officer and enlisted men:

Technical Sergeant Forrest L. Alson. (Army serial No.) (then sergeant), Coast Artillery Corps, United States Army, a member of Battery E, 60th Coast Artillery (AA), displayed gallantry in action at Mariveles, Bataan, Philippine Islands, on 19 December 1941. During a heavy bombing raid he voluntarily left a place of shelter to lead his section into the burning barrio, where he led and inspired his men to valorous deeds of rescue and salvage. Sergeant Alson dashed into a blazing wooden ammunition storehouse and, using his hands and rifle butt, beat out the flames. He then assisted and directed his section in throwing out boxes of small-arms ammunition already aflame. By his intrepid action and fearless devotion to duty, Sergeant Alson inspired his men to heroic action and saved thousands of rounds of small-arms ammunition and 3-inch anti-aircraft shells from destruction.

Second Lieutenant Pedro J. Leander, (then captain), Infantry, Philippine Army, a member of Company A, 3d Infantry Regiment, Philippine Army, displayed gallantry in action against the enemy at Nagbalayon, Bataan, on 22 January 1942. While in command of his company on a defensive front, Lieutenant Leander crawled to a hostile enemy mortar and silenced it, thus minimizing the shelling of his own men.

AGO 2069B—June 771053—48

Sergeant Antonio Martin (Army serial No.) (then corporal), Coast Artillery Corps, Philippine Scouts, a member of Headquarters Battery, 91st Coast Artillery (Philippine Scouts), distinguished himself by gallantry in action during the action on Corregidor, Philippine Islands, between December 1941 and April 1942. On at least two occasions, driving through intense artillery fire and bombing, Sergeant Martin took seriously wounded men to the hospital.

Staff Sergeant William M. Murphy (Army serial No.) (then sergeant), Coast Artillery Corps, United States Army, a member of Battery E, 60th Coast Artillery (AA), displayed gallantry in action at Fort Mills, Philippine Islands, on 16 April 1942. During the course of heavy artillery fire on Fort Mills, when over 20 casualties occurred in the Middleside Barracks, Sergeant Murphy voluntarily and without regard for his personal safety, left a place of shelter and aided in removing and then treating casualties in an exposed position for 1½ hours, during which time heavy shelling of the area continued and one air-raid alert was given.
