I—DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS. By direction of the President under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 25 July 1963, the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action is awarded posthumously to:

Major Lewis D. Bell, Artillery, United States Army, who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism on 5 March 1966 in the Republic of Vietnam, while serving as Pilot of a UH-1D helicopter when he learned that the perimeter of the 2d Battalion, 28th Infantry was surrounded and under heavy attack by a regimental-sized Viet Cong force in the vicinity of Lai Khe, Binh Duong Province. The insurgents had pressed so close to the perimeter of the American units that mortar and supporting artillery fire were relatively ineffective and the defenders had begun to run critically short of small arms ammunition. Though they realized that a delivery of ammunition into the middle of a raging jungle battle was extremely hazardous and called for exposure to withering Viet Cong machine gun fire, Major Bell and his crew voluntarily undertook to deliver fifteen hundred pounds of explosive cargo into the battle area. On the approach to the landing zone the helicopter and crew were hit time and time again by heavy machine gun and small arms fire. Knowing the ammunition was desperately needed to save the besieged infantrymen,

Major Bell and his crew ignored their own wounds and personal safety and continued through the heavy fire to the landing zone. The crew members began to unload the ammunition even though they were being repeatedly wounded by the ever increasing Viet Cong fire. Though the entire crew had been seriously wounded in their efforts, all the ammunition was successfully unloaded and Major Bell managed to fly the helicopter out of its untenable position, moments later the helicopter was shot down by a deadly cross fire of .50 caliber machine guns, killing all aboard. The heroic actions of Major Bell and his crew supplied the needed ammunition to turn the tide of battle and save numerous American lives. Because of this ammunition resupply the heavily outnumbered infantry units completely routed the insurgents, killing over 200 Viet Cong and capturing supplies and equipment which included four .50 caliber machine guns. Major Bell's conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity, at the cost of his life, above and beyond the call of duty was the mainstay of the successful camp defense. His actions were an inspiration to the American defenders, displaying magnificent leadership and conspicuous bravery. Although wounded, he never relented from his determined effort to resupply the heavily beleaguered infantry units. Major Bell's courage and determination, in the face of overwhelming firepower, were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

II—DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918, the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service in a position of great responsibility is awarded to:

Major General Autrey J. Maroun, O19865, United States Army. August 1964 to November 1966.

Major General Teddy H. Sanford, O29893, United States Army. September 1963 to January 1967.

Major General Herbert G. Sparrow, O19003, United States Army. September 1965 to February 1967.

Major General John J. Tolson, O20826, United States Army for the period March 1965 to February 1967.

Brigadier General Ellis E. Wilhoyt, Jr., O20593, United States Army, June 1964 to February 1967.

III—SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Private Ernest D. Reynolds, US55881470, United States Army, who while serving as a member of Company A, 1st Battalion, 23d Infantry, 2d Infantry Division, distinguished himself by gallantry in action on 2 November 1966 in the Republic of Korea by sacrificing his own life in the defense of his fellow soldiers. Private Reynolds was a member of a patrol operating near the southern boundary of the Demilitarized Zone in Korea when his patrol was attacked and overrun by an armed patrol of the North Korean Army. Prior to the attack, as rear security man, he had occupied a concealed position and opened fire upon the enemy, and he continued to fire until he himself was killed. His indomitable courage, determination, and profound concern for his fellow soldiers, are in the highest traditions of the military service, and reflect great credit upon himself, the 2d Infantry Division, and the United States Army.

IV—SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Lieutenant Colonel Pham Viet Hung, Army of the Republic of Vietnam, who distinguished himself by exceptional gallantry in action on 8 and 9 December 1965 while serving as Commanding Officer, 5th Infantry Regiment, Army of the Republic of Vietnam. In the early morning hours of 8 December, Colonel Hung led the 11th Ranger Battalion and the 1st Battalion, 5th Regiment in an attack against a strong Viet Cong force west of Thang Binh in Quang Tin Province, Vietnam. He positioned himself with a small Tactical Command Post group well forward where he could exercise immediate command of his forces. Contact was made with the enemy and finally after a well fought battle, the superiority of enemy manpower and firepower caused the friendly troops to withdraw and form a defensive perimeter. Colonel Hung remained awake throughout the night directing the defense and planning the next day's offensive. The Viet Cong attacked in strength during the predawn hours of 9 December. The friendly security posts were destroyed or driven back and the main line assaulted. Colonel Hung in an exposed vantage position under direct mortar and small arms fire controlled the defense. The Viet Cong began breaking through. Ignoring the intense fire, Colonel Hung moved to the forward positions and exhorted the troops to hold. By his courage and personal example he was able to reestablish the line, but under the increasing enemy pressure, it broke again. Colonel Hung ordered a withdrawal and as the regiment withdrew he was wounded by small arms fire. Although seriously wounded he attempted to direct the orderly withdrawal of his command and the American advisors with it. His heroic actions in the face of overwhelming enemy fire gave his troops and the accompanying Americans the necessary confidence to remain intact as an organization and conduct an orderly withdrawal. Colonel Hung was last seen, seriously wounded, controlling the withdrawal, and firing at the enemy. Colonel Hung's leadership and outstanding achievements were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit upon himself and the profession of arms.

V—SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Major Nguyen Duc Loi, Army of the Republic of Vietnam who distinguished himself by gallantry in action on 23 June 1965 while serving as Troop Commander of the 4th Troop, 3d Armored Cavalry Squadron, Army of the Republic of Vietnam. Major Loi was moving his Troop on a search and clear operation into Chan Thanh Hamlet, Son Thanh Village, Son Tinh District, Quang Ngai Province, South Vietnam when heavy contact was made with the enemy who were well established in fortified positions inside the hamlet. Realizing the situation was critical, due to the enemy being armed with anti-tank weapons and being in close proximity to the Armed Personnel Carriers, he ordered the troops to dismount and completely disregarding the heavy enemy fire and his personal safety, he personally led an attack on the enemy bunkers. He was continually in the forefront of the attack directing the movement and actions of his troops while hurling hand grenades into the fortified positions. After a portion of the hamlet had been cleared of the enemy, Major Loi determined that the heavy enemy fire still being received was coming from a trench line across a small open field on the edge of the hamlet. He ordered the troops to mount the carriers and assault the position. As Major Loi was leading the assault in front of his troops, he was critically wounded. Prior to being evacuated, unmindful of his own condition and thinking of his troops and mission first, he requested the Troop Advisor to see that all his wounded were evacuated and to make sure the Troop kept the enemy engaged and cleared the hamlet of the enemy. Major Loi later died at the hospital from his wound. Major Loi's inspiring leadership and aggressive example caused his troops to rout a well disciplined and well armed enemy from their fortified positions. Major Loi's conduct under heavy enemy fire reflects great credit upon himself, the military service and the Army of the Republic of Vietnam.

XI—SOLDIER'S MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Private First Class Richard M. Burbridge, ER13740421, United States Army, distinguished himself by an act of heroism, at approximately 2350 hours on 3 August 1966, at Camp A. P. Hill Military Reservation by voluntarily exposing himself to great personal hazard by participating in the rescue of three individuals who were trapped in an automobile accidentally overturned in a lake. Private Burbridge repeatedly dove underwater and swam inside the immersed vehicle to help in the release of the three men trapped therein. Through heroic efforts Private Burbridge contributed to the saving of three lives. Private Burbridge's actions bring great honor to himself and to the United States Army.

Specialist Robert E. Christie, RA14799482, United States Army is cited for exceptional heroism in the face of grave personal danger. On 20 August 1966 at Howard Air Force Base, Canal Zone, at approximately 1845 hours, after having witnessed a collision between a motorcycle and passenger car wherein two Panamanian Nationals had incurred serious injury, and were in imminent danger of being burned to death, Specialist Christie entered the intensely hot flames of the impact area to effect removal of one of the victims. When his initial efforts were thwarted by the intense heat and degree of burns sustained by the victim, Specialist Christie without hesitation and with utter disregard for his own personal safety nevertheless remained in the raging inferno and persisted in his attempts to save the victim from a fiery death. By so doing, Specialist Christie was himself continuously exposed to the danger of being burned alive or suffocation. With subsequent assistance from a fellow soldier, Specialist Christie was successful in removing the victim to a safe area and rendering aids of comfort until the arrival of medical personnel. The raw courage, great determination, and complete disregard for personal safety and well being exhibited by Specialist Christie reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

Specialist Five Wendell Harris, RA 18532892, United States Army, is cited for outstanding courage and bravery on 6 September 1966, while serving as criminal investigator, Detachment B, 6th Military Group (CI), Presidio of San Francisco, California. Specialist Harris, was summoned to Letterman General Hospital, located on the Presidio, by the Military Police Duty Officer, to assist in the apprehension of an American soldier armed with a .38 caliber revolver, who had threatened the life of one of the hospital patients. Upon arrival at the hospital, Specialist Harris was notified that the soldier has been located under hospital building 1045, where he was hiding in the dark. The soldier refused to obey repeated orders by a uniformed Military Policeman to put down his weapon and surrender. Without hesitation, Specialist Harris, with complete disregard for his own life and personal safety, volunteered to go under the building and effect the apprehension. Specialist Harris, armed with his assigned .38 caliber revolver and a flashlight, entered the darkened area and moments later located the armed soldier, hiding behind a water purifying machine. The soldier, who was pointing a coked fully-loaded .38 caliber revolver at him, once again ignored the order to put down his weapon and surrender, and Specialist Harris, with the calm deliberation of a highly trained professional, took careful aim and fired one shot, which struck the armed soldier in the fleshy part of the upper right arm, disabling him with a minimal amount of injury. Specialist Harris, by his direct and immediate approach to a crucial and highly dangerous situation, prevented the armed soldier from firing his weapon point blank at him or indiscriminately in the hospital area, thereby probably causing death or injury to himself, or civilians and military personnel on duty in the area. His calm and resolute approach and singular success in this acute hazardous situation exemplifies the high standards of dedication and conduct desired in a soldier and a military policeman. Specialist Harris by his brave and exceptional achievement has reflected great credit upon himself, the Criminal Investigation Program, the Military Police Corps and the Sixth US Army.

Specialist Five (then Specialist Four) Terence D. Horton, US54360723, United States Army, distinguished himself by exceptional heroism while engaged in a fire fighting mission near Chicken, Alaska on 19 August 1966. Specialist Horton accompanied by a fellow soldier displayed outstanding courage and utter disregard for his own safety by entering a burning camp to save the life of Mr. Ellman Pitka. The camp was encircled by fire, burning with intense heat and dense smoke. Several others had attempted to rescue the endangered man from the burning camp using a helicopter and a bulldozer. When all others available had failed and assumed Mr. Pitka was dead, Specialist Horton accompanied by a fellow soldier, drove his M113 Armored Personnel Carrier into the blaze and rescued Mr. Pitka. Specialist Horton's heroic conduct, prompt actions, and determination in this hazardous situation are in the highest traditions of the United States Army and reflect great credit upon himself and the military service.

Staff Sergeant John W. Irwin, RA11346877, United States Army, distinguished himself by courageous and heroic actions on 6 June 1966, while serving with Detachment C-101A, 1st Special Forces Group (Airborne) at Camp Pahwai, Thailand. Displaying great presence of mind and exceptional initiative, Sergeant Irwin, with complete disregard for his own personal safety, rescued a fellow soldier who had been engulfed in flames from a gasoline explosion. Seeing his comrade running wildly with his entire upper body in flames, Sergeant Irwin immediately and unhesitatingly ran to him, threw him to the ground, and with his own body extinguished the flames. Although having sustained numerous painful burns, Sergeant Irwin remained at the scene directing the evacuation of his comrade and refusing treatment until assured that his more seriously injured comrade was being given necessary medical aid. By his selfless and intrepid action Sergeant Irwin saved the life of his comrade and reduced his ultimate injuries to a minimum. Sergeant Irwin's actions are in the highest traditions of the service and reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Army.

Sergeant Douglas A. Johnston, RA14845746, United States Army, while serving as a member of Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 38th Artillery Brigade, Osan Air Force Base, Korea, distinguished himself by heroism on 23 July 1966 in Songtan-Eup, Korea. Without hesitation or concern for his own safety, Sergeant Johnston saved the lives of nine Korean children who were trapped by rapidly rising water during a flood which threatened the village of Songtan-Eup, Korea on 23 July 1966. Sergeant Johnston was passing through Songtan-Eup when he noticed an elderly Korean frantically lifting nine children onto the rooftop of a house to escape the flood waters. Realizing that the water would soon engulf the house, and at the risk of his own life, Sergeant Johnston plunged into the boiling current to aid the trapped children. For over an hour in the gathering darkness he carried the nine children to the sanctuary of higher ground. Nine times he made the dangerous trip, swimming as much as one hundred yards through the raging current with each of the children. Sergeant Johnston's courageous rescue saved nine lives and won him the praise, admiration, and respect of the Korean people.

Sergeant Johnston's courage and heroic conduct in this emergency are in the highest tradition of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

Staff Sergeant John T. Larsen, RA16644405, United States Army, Company A, 1st Battalion, 23d Infantry, 2d Infantry Division, distinguished himself by an act of heroism at approximately 0930 Hours on 29 June 1966. While Company C, 1st Battalion, 23d Infantry was conducting an area sweep in the third brigade sector of the demilitarized zone in South Korea, the Commanding Officer of Company C, discovered that one platoon of his company had entered an unmarked mine field. Two members of that company had received traumatic amputations by mine explosions and were lying in the mine field. Upon discovering their location, the Company Commander attempted to reach the injured men by using an alternate route. Upon attempting to reach the injured men, the Company Commander also stepped on a mine and was severely injured. As he fell Staff Sergeant Larsen, with total disregard for his own life and knowing that he was in danger of grievous bodily harm, rushed into the mine field and pulled the Company Commander out. Staff Sergeant Larsen's voluntary action in disregarding his own safety in order to care for a fellow soldier was in the highest tradition of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Sergeant Larsen for heroism on 29 June 1966, as announced in General Orders Number 109, Headquarters, 2d Infantry Division, dated 25 July 1966.)

Specialist Four Willie D. Lindsey, US56389108, Military Police Corps, United States Army, distinguished himself by heroism on 16 August 1966. On the morning of 16 August Specialist Lindsey and a fellow Military Policeman observed a Sierra Vista Policeman attempting to apprehend a man outside the main gate of Fort Huachuca. In the struggle which ensued the policeman then attempted to reach his patrol car to radio for help. As he did so, the assailant shot him in the abdomen. Seeing that the policeman was wounded and in mortal danger Specialist Lindsey, and his comrade voluntarily and at the risk of their own lives, drew their weapons and ran to the aid of the policeman, where they disarmed and took the gunman into custody and gave aid to the patrolman until he could receive medical attention.

Specialist Four Frank W. Lumpkin, RA13819814, United States Army. In February 1966, Specialist Four Frank W. Lumpkin heroically and without regard for personal safety acted to save two soldiers trapped in an overturned vehicle. Though fully aware that the vehicle was in imminent danger of catching fire, as gas and oil had leaked on the ground and the engine was still running, Specialist Lumpkin unhesitatingly crawled into the vehicle and removed one of the occupants and returned to remove the other who had managed to crawl free. Still realizing the danger to the onlookers that had gathered at the scene Specialist Lumpkin again crawled into the vehicle to turn off the ignition. Specialist Lumpkin's actions are in keeping with the highest traditions of the Infantry and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Specialist Lumpkin for exceptional courage on 17 February 1966 as announced in General Orders Number 100, Hqs 4th Armored Division, APO US Forces 09826, dated 8 June 1966.)

Specialist Four Frederick R. McDonald, US56368751, United States Army, as a member of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 48th Infantry, distinguished himself by heroism at approximately 2000 hours in the vicinity of Lieblo, Germany, on 10 December 1965. A M-60 Tank had plunged into the Kinzig River, overturned and trapped a soldier within the tank. The night was dark and extremely cold. The river was flooded, fast moving and muddy. Realizing that the soldier probably could not free himself, Specialist McDonald, with complete disregard for his own safety, volunteered to attempt the rescue of the soldier. Entering the freezing water Specialist McDonald dived without equipment through the hatch to the soldier, freed him by removing the equipment which entrapped him, and returned him to the shore for medical care. The soldier could not be revived. Specialist McDonald's courageous action to save the entrapped soldier under difficult and hazardous conditions reflect his unselfish and comradely spirit and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army.

Specialist Five Kerry D. McFate, RA24908721, United States Army, distinguished himself by heroism on 16 October 1966 at Coleman Barracks, Mannheim, Germany. While fighting a fire in Building 16-H, Specialist McFate discovered that a fellow soldier was missing and presumably inside the burning building. Knowing that the firemen had evacuated the basement, unable to reach the fire due to the intense heat and smoke, Specialist McFate, disregarding his own personal safety, ran into the basement and discovered the missing man unconscious and lying partially inside a burning room. He called for assistance and had dragged the victim from the room and down the hall before more help arrived. Specialist McFate's quick response in an emergency situation, without regard for his own personal safety, reflects great credit upon himself and is in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Specialist McFate for heroism on 16 October 1966 as announced in General Orders Number 80, Headquarters Seventh Army Support Command, dated 21 December 1966.)

Second Lieutenant Paul N. Marks, Jr., OF106452, Quartermaster Corps, United States Army, while serving as the Battalion Adjutant to Headquarters, 3d Battalion, 68th Armor, 8th Infantry

Division, performed an act of heroism on 16 November 1966 at Baumholder, Germany. During the course of Platoon Basic Unit Training, Lieutenant Marks stopped his ¼ ton beside an M60 tank to converse with Specialist Fourth Class Louis A. Mazeika, the Tank Commander. Suddenly and for no apparent reason, the tank moved in reverse and, at the same time, turned toward Lieutenant Marks' vehicle. With utter disregard for his own safety, Lieutenant Marks elected to remain seated in his ¼ ton in order to pull Specialist Mazeika, who was standing with his back to the tank, out of the path of the on-coming tank. In the same instant, Lieutenant Marks shouted a warning to his driver, who was unaware of what was about to occur, to get out of the vehicle. Through Lieutenant Marks' quick action and warnings, both the driver and Specialist Mazeika were able to escape without injury. Lieutenant Marks, as a result of this unselfish, heroic act, sustained grievous injuries and risked loss of life, as the tank backed over his ¼ ton pinning his inside, before it could be halted. Lieutenant Marks' heroism and humanitarian efforts are in the highest traditions of the United States Army and reflect great credit upon himself and the military service.

Second Lieutenant James D. Salyer, O5418759, Artillery, United States Army, Headquarters, Headquarters and Service Battery, 6th Battalion, 92d Artillery, 2d Armored Division, Fort Hood, Texas, distinguished himself by heroism on 27 January 1966 at Close Combat Range Number One when a live grenade simulator failed to clear a log obstacle and landed within five feet of a Basic Combat Trainee. Lieutenant Salyer ordered the man to move out of the area. However, the soldier became paralyzed with fear and failed to move. Lieutenant Salyer, without regard for his personal safety, immediately ran into the assault course and dragged the basic combat trainee from the live grenade. Lieutenant Salyer then threw himself on top of the man in order to protect him from the blast. As a result of Lieutenant Salyer's prompt and heroic action, the soldier was saved from death or serious injury. Lieutenant Salyer's action was in the finest traditions of the United States Army and reflects great credit upon himself and the military service.

Specialist Six Tillman C. Slayden, RA14217798, United States Army, Battery A, 4th Missile Battalion (NH), 43d Artillery, distinguished himself by an act of heroism on 29 December 1966, at Anchorage, Alaska. At approximately 1100 hrs, Specialist Slayden responded to a call for help from Tony Shivers. The Shivers trailer home was engulfed in flames when Specialist Slayden arrived. Unable to gain entry through the front door of the trailer, he forced the rear door open and without regard for his own safety, entered the trailer and found the Shivers children standing near the burning living room, immobilized by fear. Grabbing the children, Specialist Slayden tossed them one after the other through the back door into the snow. After ascertaining that no other children were in the trailer, Specialist Slayden took the Shivers children to his home to await the return of their parents. As a result of Specialist Slayden's quick actions, there were no injuries to the children, but the trailer and the family dog were lost as a result of the fire. Specialist Slayden's heroic action is in keeping with the highest tradition of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself and the United States Army.

Private Brian B. Smith, ER13991274, United States Army, 99th Army Security Agency, distinguished himself by an act of heroism at approximately 2400 hours on 3 August 1966 by his participation in a highly effective rescue operation. Three individuals were trapped in an automobile, which had overturned in a nearby lake as a result of an accident. Private Smith assisted in getting these individuals to shore and in administering first aid. Private Smith's actions contributed directly to saving the lives of the individuals involved in the accident and bring great honor to him and to the US Army.

Staff Sergeant Samuel G. Suarez, RA38763490, Military Police Corps, United States Army, distinguished himself by heroic action on 13 August 1966 near the town of Natalia, Texas. At approximately 1855 hours while driving his automobile north on US Highway 81, Sergeant Suarez witnessed a head-on collision involving a station wagon traveling in front of him, and a compact car traveling in the opposite direction. Immediately following the collision the compact car burst into flames, and seconds later, the fire spread to the station wagon. With complete disregard for his own personal safety, Sergeant Suarez left his vehicle and ran to the scene. Although both vehicles were burning and had come to rest only several feet apart, Sergeant Suarez ignored the imminent danger of an explosion and courageously went about the task of rescuing the trapped inhabitants of the vehicles. Both front doors of the station wagon were jammed shut by the force of the collision. Starting on the driver's side, Sergeant Suarez pried open the door and removed the driver to a safe place on the side of the highway. He returned to the vehicle, pried open the front seat passenger door and removed a small girl and a woman from the front seat. By this time, flames from the gasoline fire were engulfing the rear portion of the station wagon. Sergeant Suarez again returned to the vehicle and in two trips removed two teenage boys from the rear seat. Having determined that no more passengers remained in the station wagon, he turned his attention to the other vehicle. He found one man had been thrown out of the vehicle, but due to the intense heat and a series of explosions he was unable to determine if anyone else remained inside. Sergeant Suarez's fast thinking and quick action saved five people from probable death. His courage and complete disregard for his own personal safety are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military and reflect great credit upon himself and upon the United States Army.

XII—BRONZE STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal for meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded to:

Captain Gerald L. Peffers, O5310658, Infantry, United States Army. August 1963 to August 1964.

XIII—AIR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 9158, 11 May 1942, as amended by Executive Order 9242-A, 11 September 1942, an Air Medal for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight is awarded by the Department of the Army to:

Colonel William O. Antozzi, O43307, Quartermaster Corps, United States Army. January 1958 to January 1966.

Captain Douglas W. Lamppin, O2313086, Medical Corps, United States Army. 11 December 1965.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 9158, 11 May 1942, as amended by Executive Order 9242-A, 11 September 1942, an Air Medal (Second Oak Leaf Cluster) for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight is awarded by the Department of the Army to:

Sergeant Major Arif R. Zaky, RA16242303 (then Master Sergeant), United States Army. June 1964 to July 1964 and November 1964 to December 1964.

XIV—ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 33, AR 672-5-1, the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious achievement is awarded posthumously to:

Captain Robert E. Deibel, O92180, Artillery, United States Army. 6-7 October 1962.

XV—ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 33, AR 672-5-1, the Army Commendation Medal with "V" Device for heroism is awarded to:

First Lieutenant Robert N. Connelly, FV3120208, United States Air Force distinguished himself by an act of heroism on 4 July 1966 as a Forward Air Controller in Tay Ninh Province, Republic of Vietnam. At approximately 1600 hours a Mike Force Company ran into 2 companies of Viet Cong in War Zone "C" north of Tay Ninh city. Lieutenant Connelly responded to their request for assistance, and, despite marginal weather with ceilings between 1800 to 2000 ft with rain showers, flew to the area of the conflict. The Mike Force had taken several casualties in the contact, including all three of the American Advisors—one in need of immediate medevac. Since the Mike Force Company had no smoke, Lieutenant Connelly flew at tree top level in order to establish visual contact with the unit. When he had contact he immediately called in artillery on the VC Forces and gave directions to the unit as to direction of movement to an LZ Medevac. As the company moved out he placed two air strikes on the pursuing VC. Lieutenant Connelly was constantly exposed to enemy small arms and automatic weapons fire but remained on station until the Mike Force reached a reinforcing unit from Trai Bi Camp. Lieutenant Connelly's actions are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.
