As command and control headquarters for all non-tactical military police organizations in the Republic of Vietnam, the officers and men of the detachment displayed extraordinary dedication, tenacity and professionalism in sustaining subordinate commands dispersed throughout the theater. With unrelenting effort, they labored far in excess of the normal duty hours to ensure that all elements of the brigade maintained a high level of security at their assigned areas of surveillance. Displaying superb foresight and organizational expertise, the members of HEADQUARTERS AND HEADQUARTERS DETACHMENT, 18TH MILITARY POLICE BRIGADE were particularly successful in rendering route reconnaissance, convoy escort and security; in providing a safeguard for critical installations and urban areas and in controlling and securing the Long Binh Post tactical area of responsibility.
